

Company Profile

Founded in 1984 by kitchen interior designer Mick De Giulio, de Giulio kitchen design has two Chicago area showrooms, including one at LuxeHome in the Merchandise Mart.

Melding modern and classical vocabularies, de Giulio's distinctive compositions are inspired by cultural influences and technology, and combine an experienced sensibility to craft, fine detail, and classic proportion. de Giulio has built a reputation for exceptional design and an unsurpassed level of service. The company's mission statement reflects this dedication to excellence: de Giulio is dedicated to being a leader in design and to consistently exceeding client expectations with excellence in presentation, product and service, while offering its employees a secure, enjoyable and creative environment. The Franklin Report (a survey of the best home services, remodeling, repairs and renovations available) recognized de Giulio, giving the company their highest rating of five stars across all categories, including work quality, cost evaluation, and value analysis.

de Giulio's commitment to excellence goes beyond the day-to-day operations of the business itself. With a strong philanthropic culture, the company annually supports over 50 charities and often hosts educational seminars to benefit local organizations.

de Giulio designs have been featured in numerous publications, including Beautiful Kitchens, Town & Country, House Beautiful, Trends, Traditional Home, Interior Design, Renovation Style, Elle Décor, and Better Homes and Gardens as well as several international publications including, Elle, Nile, Keukens, Domizil, and Wohn!Design. de Giulio designers frequently draw inspiration from worldwide architecture and design. Their consummate understanding of cultural influences and architecture from around the world is intuitively translated into their unique and innovative designs. According to Beautiful Kitchens magazine, "Industry insiders and clients agree the Chicago designer's kitchens are aesthetically pristine and flawlessly engineered. And, they handle like a dream."
